and Told

By The Editor

The absence of Greenfield at the bedside of his father, who is seriously ill, being messed up with fresh paint being placed on the walls and ceiling, the 4th of July and the first of the month, all conspired against us this week to the extent that we are bowing down our paper to six pages.

One thing that did not mess us up was the senatorial race for we have not the slightest interest in that race, having quit fooling with politics and politicians.

Grenada overlooked a grand opportunity when the cucumber man was turned a deaf ear here. He is buying cucumbers every day from satisfied Yalobusha county farmers. Money, especially this time of the year, comes in mighty handy.

On account of lack of space, we are omitting our usual weekly article about "What's Going On In Grenada" this week. We plan next week to tell about the Quinn Milk Products Co.

By the time you read this, we will have had the interior of our new place painted and you are invited to come to see us and take a dip, provided you go outside the door and spit in the street.

Francis Hill has a job with John Rufus Perry, driving the delivery truck and being general utility man.

Most folks whom we have heard make expression concerning the matter prefer to vote for some outstanding North Mississippi man for the U. S. Senate. Just what North Mississippi man will run is not known at this writing.

On account of our temporary shortness of help and also on account of temporary disorganization due to painting, we will have to hold over a good deal of interesting matter. Some poetry will go by the board.

Due to good luck and to the forbearance of our creditors we have been able to get by another first of the month.

John W. Bradley agrees most heartily with our statement, "Aint they sweet". He says that's too mild to express HIS opinion.

We have about enough job work to keep Horn and Harry busy this week end, but need some next week. Our new equipment, bought and paid for, should arrive by next week.

There are plenty of busy men in and about Grenada but we believe Earl and Harry Burkley are about the busiest.

Mark our prediction: before the end of the year, Grenada will have an almost complete change in the aldermen who took office in May 1940.

Sam and Sally Mitchell, of the swamp in Clarksdale, came back "home" Sunday. Sally is spending the week in the Bass home, but Sam had to go back to the grind at Clarksdale.

Claud Perry may be too cranky to admit it, but he really believes in the old adage "Aint they sweet".

With one-half of the state's voting strength in N. E. Mississippi, we wonder if the people are going to elect some rosin eater from South Mississippi as Senator. It looks like a governor and one senator from South Mississippi would be sufficient for an area having about one-fourth of the voting strength.

Here pent la groan, who bay yu dun fer m'r red bris cow who aint had nuthin 2 sav her lately.

I am like Paul Johnson wps when he was running for governor! I love everybody.

Miss Evelyn Walker, of Ruston, La., is visiting her sister, Miss Mabel Walker in Grenada this week.

Unless Mississippi can get more from the huge defense spending spree than it got in the past, there is little use in electing a senator.

They say that Arthur Williams who bought th Crump old place near Parsons has been making some substantial improvement on the part he kept for his own use.

You know, I beleive Lee Taylor is sick as I have not heard from him in a long time

It is as hot as hell but there is nothing we can do about it except revel in the knowledge that we can bear it better than the boll weevils.

Pete Simpson, a recent visitor, enjoys the unique distinction of never being delinquent, yet never paying in a dime, as Mr. Haxby always pays for Pete's paper.

Mrs. W. F. Hallam, 74 Died In Grenada Monday

Mrs. W. F. Hallam, life long resident of Grenada, passed to her reward Monday June 30, 1941. For many years she has not taken an active part in affairs but has remained at home.

She was born November 10, 1867 and therefore lacked only a short time of being 74 years of age. She was a member of the Drummond family which for many years was prominent in this community. She was a member of the Baptist faith and, when health and strength permitted, was a regular attendant at divine services. She was born and reared in Grenada, and it was in Grenada that she and her late husband, W. F. Hallam, were married on May 16, 1888. She and her husband, who operated a retail establishment here during his active life, reared a fine family of sons and daughters, and always made their home in Grenada. She never took an active part in the superficial social affairs of the community but, on the contrary, devoted her attention to the care of her children and husband, and to church affairs.

At the time this is being written Wednesday afternoon, the time of burial has not been set definitely, as efforts are being made to await the arrival of a member of the family who lives far from Grenada. The pallbearers selected, who are fellow members of the American Legion with her son Earl Hallam, are: John Pressgrove, Harry Wilson, Cliff Hamby, Gene Turnipseed, William Wright and J. W. Talbert.

Surviving Mrs. Hallam are five children: Mrs. J. A. Snowden, of Memphis; Mrs. Grace Griffin, of Detroit; Mr. E. R. Hallam, of Grenada; Lloyd Hallam, of Memphis; and Miss Hazel Hallam, of Grenada, to whom we extend our sympathy.

Grenadian's Kin Passes

Mrs. Frank Anderson and her brother Mr. Carl Boatright attended the funeral in Van Buren, Ark. of their brother Mr. R. G. Boatright, who died on Monday, June 23, following an automobile accident in which he sustained fatal injuries.

Mr. Boatright, a World War veteran had many friends who are grieved at his untimely passing. To his loved ones we offer our sympathy.

Bess Woods Appointed

Miss Bess Woods has been appointed Treasurer of the local chapter of the Red Cross to succeed Henry Ray, Jr. who is in Uncle Sam's army.

Former Grenadian Honored

Grenada friends of Sgt. Granville W. James, formerly of Grenada, will be pleased to know that he received the highest grade in competition with 29 of his fellow recruiting non-coms in an examination recently held in Dallas, Texas, according to his Commanding Officer, Col. J. Alfred Moss.

CCC ENROLLMENT

There will be an enrollment of boys for CCC Camp in Grenada on Saturday, July 12, 1941 at 8:00 a. m. Any boys, unemployed, out of school between ages of 17 and 23, both white and colored, that are interested please contact Mrs. T. W. Goodwin over Mr. Haxby's grocery store before the above date.

Recently we went all over Lum Butler's place north of Holcomb. It embraces the Turner old place and part of the Terrell old place and the Ray forty. To put the matter very mildly, Lum has worked wonders with that old land. He has not a single stalk of cotton on the place, but his corn, soy beans, sweet potatoes and lespedeza are all flourishing. His sawing rig is cutting his own timber into lumber to build his own houses at Morehead, and the mill was running full blast. We saw good crops on land worn out sixty years ago. We saw that was a howling wilderness four years ago cleared of every stump and growing good corn. We could, and probably will write a more comprehensive article about Lum's activities at a later date; but suffice for the present to say, Lum is a "turner" working the Turner old land.

Help us keep Greenfield and Horn out of devilment on Fridays and Saturdays by pouring the job printing into this shop. We have some new equipment on its way to Grenada, and when it is received, we can do anything.

Will Criss, our loyal subscriber of Beat Three, dropped in Saturday to look over and approve our new place. So did I. O. Pearson.

State Representatives To Interview Students

Representatives of Mississippi State College will interview prospective students from Grenada and Grogada county at 9:30 a. m. on Monday, July 7, in the office of the county superintendent of education. It has been announced by Dr. G. D. Humphrey, president of the College.

This state-wide tour, started by President Humphrey several years ago, is designed to acquaint prospective students and their parents with the courses of study offered at Mississippi State College, finances, filing of entrance credits, room reservations, and the procedures of registration for the coming school year.

The College will be represented by Dr. John E. Locke, associate professor of Botany, William "Billy" Mitts, president-elect of the 1941-42 student body, and R. C. Weems, dean of the School of Business and Industry.

These men will be ready to answer questions about the R. O. T. C. program, how courses offered at Mississippi State College fit into the student's vocation, and all the procedures of the College, making it possible for interested high school graduates and their parents to obtain desired information without making a trip to State College.

John Provine Sends In First Cotton Boll

We have been running articles about first, second and third blooms here lately, so John S. Provine, who owns and operates part of the J. N. Provine place near Big Creek sent in a limb from a cotton plant containing a boll as large as a pullet egg.

These other cotton farmers are just top minnows.

Flag Pole

The City of Grenada is erecting a sixty-foot flag pole in the city square preparatory to giving Old Glory a high perch from which to wave.

Talbert Turner, our old neighbor at Holcomb and now our close neighbor on Beale Avenue, swapped in a rocking chair for a year's subscription Maraschino sits on his side of the street in his chair and smokes his pipe, and now I can sit in my reclining chair on my side of the street and smoke my pipe.

Our venerable friend and subscriber, Mrs. T. H. Moore, did not wait until August, but renewed in May.

If I do not check up on columnists I will not have room in my own paper for anything but "Aint they sweet".

The county officers appreciated the article about Grenada County last week.

We welcome the new series of DODGE ads in the GCW. One by one, advertisers recognize the superior coverage of this newspaper.

I do not believe I mentioned last week that I was happy to have an appreciated caller in the person of W. V. Davis, Sr., of Kosciusko. He now has a son and daughter in Grenada and says he might as well move here.

W. E. Smith, Hardy's plutocrat, recently renewed.

Cash registers rang merry tunes last Saturday as it was "draw day."

Thanks to Mrs. E. S. Barrentine for a renewal.

One Of The Best Things In Life

One of the best things in this world that we enjoy most is good food. We need it for our bodies to enable us to carry on in this life.

Not only do we need this kind of food, but we need that most wonderful food, "Food for our Souls." To have eternal happiness, to go where our Father has prepared to make us happy, we must enjoy this spiritual food.

Come to the tent on the High School ball field, and hear a real man of God, Rev. S. M. Butts, Methodist Conference evangelist, on will get that food which is uplifting and soul saving. Good singing and a very, very comfortable place to worship and enjoy the real gospel, also the splendid fellowship with Rev. T. B. Thrower.

One who loves God and His good work.

Pressgrove Named Granada County Chairman

Mr. John P. Pressgrove has been named Chairman for Grenada County of the Mississippi Defense Council, part of the national civilian organization designed to coordinate the efforts of civilians in the national defense program. Mr. Pressgrove will name his committees next week.

One of the first projects to be undertaken by this organization is the Aluminum Recovery Campaign, part of the national program designed to start on July 1st.

At the proper time people of this county, like all people of the nation, will be requested to donate aluminum articles no longer needed at home.

Further details of this campaign will appear from time to time in this newspaper.

DeLoach's, Inc. Seventh Anniversary

Attention is called to the advertisement in this paper announcing DeLoach's, Inc. Seventh Anniversary Sale, which begins Saturday morning, July 5th in Greenwood. DeLoach's, Inc. established seven years ago, has gained steadily in popularity as one of the leading ladies' stores of the Delta.

Society

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jackson spent three days in Blytheville, Ark. this week.

NEIGHBORHOOD PARTY

Mrs. Knox Pierce invited the neighbors to her home Tuesday morning to greet her and their former neighbor, Mrs. Mae McCormack, who was here for a brief stop-over.

Delicious sandwiches and cocktails were served with iced Co-Cola, to approximately fifteen ladies.

Mr. E. L. Morrow and daughter, Ruth Lee, returned home Saturday evening from a months visit with their parents and grandparents and other relatives at Hartselle, Ala. They accompanied their sister and aunt Miss Carolyn Sharp, member of the High School faculty at Greenwood, to Hartselle early in June and when they came home, Miss Sharp returned with them, purposely to visit friends in Greenwood over the week-end. She and Ruth Lee have returned to Hartselle making the trip early this week.

Miss Elsie Cockett, of Jackson, is visiting here this week with her mother, Mrs. C. E. Lockett and family.

Mrs. Rosa Percy, of Jackson, Tenn., is visiting her granddaughter, Mrs. Gertrude Constantine and her granddaughter, Walter Edward, here for two weeks. Mrs. Percy will also visit her daughter, Mrs. R. J. Jennings, Jr. at Scoley.

Mrs. H. B. Spain and Mrs. Etta Dudley spent several days in Memphis with friends this week.

Miss Sue Vandiver visited her friend, Miss Martha Lynn Braeme in Yazoo City, this week.

Friends of Miss Robbie Doak will be interested to know that she is recuperating in the delta home of her sister, Mrs. J. P. Fisher and family, at Jonesdown, following the removal of her tonsils at the Baptist Hospital in Memphis, last week. Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Doak accompanied Miss Robbie to Memphis and returned home the next day.

Miss Louise Sanderson, student at L. S. U. the past semester, visited her aunt Miss Mary Hester at Monroe during the month of June, returned home the past week end to spend her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanderson.

Mrs. Malcolm Lawrence and two son Ellett and Malcolm, Jr. are here for a summer visit.

Mrs. R. L. Bingham was called to the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Ford, who resides near Oakland. She is to remain there this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Quantrell and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Alexander went to Memphis Wednesday afternoon to hear Jan Garber at the Peabody. They returned home Thursday.

Mrs. Lella Carmichael, of Chicago, and granddaughter, Sally Ford Ashworth are visiting their sister and great aunt, Mrs. Hodgkins.

Mesdames William Duke and Lulla Tollerson, of Memphis, spent the week end with Mesdames Ben Moore and Lee Holland in Grenada.

Edward A. Jones, Former Grenadian, Died Tuesday

Edward A. Jones, son of Mrs. Annie Jones, of Grenada, and the late Sheriff G. B. Jones, of Grenada County, died Thursday afternoon, June 26th, 1941 in his home in Rayville, Louisiana, after a nervous breakdown.

Edward was born on South Street in Grenada on June 27, 1894, received his high school education here and also was graduated from the then A. & M. College. For many years he has lived in Rayville, Louisiana where at the time of his death when ordinary for the sheriff of that parish. He was a feed and seed business and engaged in other varied activities. He was an indefatigable worker, and tendency to tax his strength no doubt accounted for his death when ordinarily he would have been in the prime of life. His friends in Grenada were legion, while in his adopted home he was accounted as one of Rayville's most popular citizens.

Rev. J. H. Hooks, pastor of the Baptist Church of Rayville, of which the deceased was a member, conducted the funeral ceremonies. Messrs. W. R. Barksdale, N. L. Cassibry, O. P. Gooch, James Aycock, Fred Moran, J. H. Bingham, Stein Bingham and Jake Joseph served as pallbearers.

Surviving him are his widow and one son, Edward E. Jones, Jr.; his mother, Mrs. Annie Jones, of Grenada; and a sister, Mrs. Ralph King, of Monroe, La.; and five brothers, C. B. Jones, of Cleveland; Bobby Jones, of Keiser, Ark.; Frank Jones, of Memphis; John P. Jones, of Silkeston, Mo.; and Mays Jones, of Abbeville, N. M. Our sympathy goes to the bereaved ones.

Lions Elect Officers For Ensuing Year

Recently the Lions Club of Grenada elected new officers as follows: Juel Ratson, president (picture elsewhere); George Criss, 1st V. P.; N. R. Paschal, 2nd V. P.; Rice Pressgrove, 3rd V. P.; and Rev. C. S. Liles, secretary and treasurer.

JOHN SCOTT RECEIVES HONORS

John Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scott and grandson of Mrs. John Scott of Grenada, was runner-up (second place) in Texas State final contest for Ford road drivers, staged at Austin, Texas last week. Congratulations, John.

Gere Springs H. D. Club

On June 12th the Gere Springs H. D. Club held its regular monthly meeting in the auditorium of the school building, with 15 members present. The meeting was called to order by singing "Juanita" and "The Lily of the Valley." The roll call was answered with the name of your favorite flower.

Then the president took charge and discussed the old and new business. She also explained about the "traveling trunk" exhibit which will be sent to our club by the Country Gentlewoman League on Wednesday, June 25th and urged that every member see the exhibit. Mrs. Neely then discussed how to make electricity pay in the rural home. Mrs. Sam Gillon conducted an interesting school days contest and Mrs. Homer Trussell had a contest on the different parts of the chicken. Mrs. Sam Gillon winning the prize. Mrs. Annie Tharpe gave a reading, "Don't let the Minutes Drag". Our new member, Mrs. George Leeverette, was added to the roll. Meeting adjourned to meet again in July.

The old lady looks above five years younger since she came back from Hot Springs.

Snip Crenshaw is busy collecting delinquent taxes. He is a good one.

With curtailment in production of new cars a certainty, we predict that the shops equipped to do good repair work will be busy all the time. They should advertise what they can offer.

We certainly do miss Henry Ford's ads, and guess the rest of the county newspapers do too.

If the United States declares war, and if our elected leaders think it necessary to send an expeditionary force to the theaters of war, so be it. Of course, we hate to see our son and your sons sent abroad, but, if necessary, let them go. Two millions of men, including the writer, went abroad in 1918.

Dick Latham, of Beat Five made one of his infrequent visits to Grenada last week.

Staff of Life Up 50c Pint In Illinois

Chicago, June 8, 1941.
My Dear Whyte:

As your official Chicago correspondent, I shall now write my first effusion for the GCW and tell you the happenings in Chicago and Illinois.

Leonard Hicks, manager of the Morrison Hotel, one of our biggest hotels, and doubtless the best in the city, has hired five new waitresses, seven new bell hops and two new bar tenders. Between the draft and the big money Uncle Sam is paying in the munition factories down Joliet way, Len has a terrible time keeping competent help. One of the new bar tenders however, mixes a very fine "Barcardi cocktail" so Leonard feels much better, because he knows this will result in the retention of my trade.

Several residents of the Grenada vicinity have become very well known since I returned to Chicago. Among them is Colonel Henry Kahn of Duck Hill. At the first meeting of my American Legion Post, after my return, I recited the good colonel's little poem on "America" and it went over with a bang. I also told them about you and Herbert Allen and our historic trip through the wilds of Louisiana and they believed everything excepting about your eating beefsteak in McComb with your teeth in Grenada, and me going to bed at 9 o'clock P. M. These two points caused grave doubts and I will have to get affidavits attesting to the truth of both statements to maintain my reputation for truth and never showing the effects of liquor.

My story of that terrible Mississippi road between Centerville and Liberty brought tears to the eyes of all and won me a profound vote of sympathy. Were it not for the fact that you have publicly ostracized all publicans, and sworn off ever speaking to them again, I'd ask you to speak to the governor about that road.

Then I've told all and every one about those Mississippi biscuits, as best made by Carrie, the estimable colored maid employed by my friend, Captain and Mrs. Scott, of Duck Hill. I use the word "employed" with hesitation, however—because Carrie really is a member of the family, an irreplaceable adjunct, and a part of that relationship between the colored and white members of a family which is shown only in the old South and in those fine old Southern families which have no parallel anywhere else on earth.

Demosthenes, even after all his practice on the beaches never waxed so eloquently as I have waxed in my descriptions of those biscuits which Carrie used to bring me every morning as part of my breakfast in bed. My audience droll at the mouths after the fashion of a bunch of hound dogs gathered at the kitchen door when beefsteak is sizzling on the pan. They utter cries of anguish when I tell them that I do not possess the recipe—that recipe is a secret of the Wilkins, Moore and Scott families, handed down through the generations, and now possessed by only Carrie. They cheer like victorious troops when I finally inform them that Captain Scott, through me, has extended an invitation to my American Legion Post pals to drop off when motoring on No. 51, and partake of Southern hospitality and Carrie's biscuits.

The Republicans, who now control the State of Illinois, with the exception of Chicago, where my friend Mayor Ed Kelly remains boss, are raising Hell in a readjustment of taxes. They are increasing taxes on the two great necessities of life, liquor and tobacco. They have cut the sales tax one percent on bread, but they've added fifty cents a quart in taxes to the staff of life. They also have added two cents a box on cigarettes. If these taxes keep on, I fear they are going to completely reform me and turn me into a saint.

You and my other friends in Mississippi will be pleased and proud to know that the Democrats resisted to the last ditch this change in the tax structure, but the Republicans outnumbered the Democrats in the state legislature, and the dastard program was put into effect.

Down state, near Joliet, Uncle Sam is putting in a big munition factory covering many hundred of acres, and the housing problem is acute. This is a problem Grenada will have to face if you are successful in getting a continent for the county. People are living in trailers, tents, little tin houses and sleeping ten to a room on boats. The cost of living is answering to the inevitable law of supply and demand, which even the New Deal never has been able to outmode, and the regular inhabitants of the towns affected are boarding their doors, locking their windows and taking to their storm cellars.

So I am giving Grenada ample warning. Don't say I didn't tell you! By this time I imagine the GCW is in its new quarters, and I can picture you at that new big desk, perhaps with an office boy on guard to announce your callers, and a blonde secretary taking your dictation. Is the new joint air-conditioned or as hot as the other kennel?

A lot of people are after me to go back to work but I am resisting manfully. One fellow wants me to go into the oil business with him, he furnishing the capital, so I'm going down state this week and look over his holdings in the Illinois oil fields, about 250 miles south of here. However, I've still made my arrangements to go to the north Wisconsin woods next month so I guess the oil business will have to worry along without me.

The Friday after I came back I was invited to occupy a speakers platform seat for the Unity address of Wendell L. Wilkie. You remember him—he got some votes in Mississippi last November. He was introduced to an audience of 24,000 crowding every seat in the Chicago Stadium, by Mayor Kelly, his arch foe in the presidential campaign in this vicinity.

It was a grand exemplification of our American Democracy. Foes in an election—Americans when danger threatens! Editing his speech down to a few words, he said:

"I still thoroughly disagree with President Roosevelt in many of his domestic policies, but I thoroughly agree with him in his foreign policies. I thoroughly disagree with those who call for new leadership in this emergency. F. D. Roosevelt was elected president of the United States last fall. You know that—but I know it better than anyone of you. (At this point he drew a tremendous laugh.)

"Our constitution makes him your—and my—president for the next four years. I am going to serve him and my country with all my heart and soul and my vigor during this riot of world banditry which threatens the very foundations of our democracy."

Every real American must agree with every word of the above.

I tried to impress the same thing on the Lions and Rotarians in Grenada, and I hope the thoughts still is with them.

Chicago is a great town, but it isn't Mississippi. I want to roam the streets of Grenada and the STREET of Duck Hill—and see the smiles on the faces of everybody, and hear the hearty greetings given the stranger by the people who never saw him before. Its something that the South has and the North lacks. Its something you find only in the South. And I want to get back to it—and I'm a-going to—again this fall.

So I'll be seeing you all at the first frost.

Jack Robinson.

My Column
Cpl. Whyte Whitaker Jr

Here is what my tent mate, Louis E. Coleman thinks about several things. He says: We have been having a lot of rain down here in Camp Blanding the water in the tent is two feet deep. Pvt. Garland Mitchell is standing up on his locker in his underwear saying my last pair of pants are in soak.

Pvt. Louis E. Coleman and Pvt. Wallace Gant are in the gun section. Pvt. Gant says to Pvt. Coleman, Hitler won't have a chance will he?

Pvt. Ricks went in a barber shop and got a hair cut and the barber asked Ricks if he wanted a shampoo. Ricks told him he wasn't hungry but he could wrap him up one and he would eat it after a while.

Several of the Non-Coms and a few Privates took a couple of written tests the other night, the purpose of which is to qualify them as expert gunners or something of the sort. During the Communications test, Captain Baggett remarked, "Who knows, I might get a good Signal Sergeant out of this test." One of the fellows remarked, "Yes sir, and you may get some good Back Privates out of this too, sir."

My erstwhile compatriot and fellow soldier, Sgt. Roane has stated that he will spend his three days at Ocala fishing. I'm wondering what kind of fishing he is referring to. You don't have to fish corks out of bottles nowadays.

How good it would have felt to have awoken this bright and beautiful sun shining Sunday morning and gazed out of my window at the lovely sights of dear old Grenada. Instead I see sand and tents, tents and sand, all through the day and on into the night. I heard one soldier say that he had been kicked out of better place than this. When it all boils down though, it's not so bad as one thinks it might be. I have been in worse places and I have been in better places. It's all in one's mind what he wants to make of it. Some of the boys can adjust themselves and some cannot. I'm of the opinion that it's harder on the young married fellows than it is on anyone else. So it seems the case in our battery anyway. The only trouble on the part of the young married fellow is that they leave, the Government no loop-holes in their contracts you sign with them. 'Tis a bad situation because they should have thought about that when they got into this man's army. It's a different proposition with the draftees that are married though. Some of them should be allowed to get out so as to support their wives.

I hope the citizens of Grenada know what they are about. Grenada is a beautiful and wholesome little city. But, an Army Camp is a tremendous proposition. It will help financially of course, but, think of the things it will take away that will never be restored again. Grenada is not big enough to absorb an Army Camp. P. S. Don't be too let down if the camp is not located there.

Several Grenada Countians visited Corporal Dorsey Tollison here last week-end. Included in the number were, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Tollison, his father and mother; Mr. J. B. Tollison, an uncle; Mr. and Mrs. Mossey, his brother-in-law and sister; and Miss Audrey Real, his sweetheart.

War gases have not been put in use in the European conflict yet. This can be attributed to several things, namely: A stalemate has not been created; both sides are afraid of retaliation; and, neither the Axis or the Allies would like for it to be said of them that "you" started it.

The United States Army isn't taking it for granted that it won't be used. As often as possible the men are instructed in gas mask drills in order to reach maximum proficiency. They must know the first-aid treatment for gas casualties, be able to differentiate between serious and slightly gassed cases, must know the tactical protective measures against chemical attack, and be able to describe the chemical agents that may be encountered in the field, their properties and physiological effect.

Gas is not to be feared but you should have due respect for its ability to produce a casualty. During the World War a poor gas disciplined American Army suffered over 70,000 casualties. If these men had known how to protect themselves the number would have been considerably lower. A well gas disciplined soldier has no fear of gas for he knows that his gas mask affords full protection from most gases—Mustard and Lewisite requires protective clothing in heavy concentrations. Hysteria and chaos is found in the ranks of poor gas disciplined men.

James W. Martin, better known as "Snake Eye," while writing Miss Lotie McHann, one of the GCW's best looking subscribers, at Phillip, Miss, wrote a whole page on a blotter the same size of the writing paper before he realized his mistake. This is a funny world—funny people in it, too! Ain't it?

I carried Marie Antonette in my bosom Monday night. Of course I am referring to the book—put it under my shirt to keep it from getting wet.

Speaking of books, reminds me of the Division Library. There are hundreds of volumes of fiction, non-fiction, biographies and autobiographies all readily available to the enlisted men. The librarian said she won't have four thousand more books within the next several weeks.

It rains inside my tent and leaks outside. Don't form your opinion too quick—there's always advantages and disadvantages in to a situation like this. One or two of the advantages are: I don't have to go to the bath house for a shower and the tent never needs scrubbing for all one has to do is sweep out the water and presto there goes the dirt.

Four homesick boys, Lane, Batson, Echols, and Theisman, will be in your midst July 14th. They hope—they pray.

Our very affable battery clerk, Corporal Barney Echols, since his return home, has been receiving letters from sources that he won't make known. Wonder who she is? She must be the acme of femininity, for Barney has a very discriminating taste.

Sergeant Elmer C. Shaw and Private Curtis received letters from the same fair lady in Jacksonville, Fla. There was very little difference in the two letters, according to Private Curtis. Both of them were about him.

While passing one of our elaborate tents this morning, I heard two of our crew of this Headquarters Battery having a dissertation on how to get out of the army. One suggested to the other that he become a Conscientious Objector. Another one that happened to be passing "That won't work because he ain't got no conscience." And so, our little world rolls on by.

The latest dope I have seen on the German-Russian statement is that one Russian pilot is claimed to have shot down 34 or some odd German Bombers in one day. One thing certain, that boy will get plenty of "vodka" and a lot of hugs from the little Russian Bearresses.

This Echols boy has representatives of Mississippi's two best schools vying with him for hearts with a certain girl in Grenada.

Sgt. Theisman has finally let us in on why he sleeps so much. He says what is the use of getting up when there ain't nothing to do when you get up but go back to bed.

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

A fellow went into a restaurant and ordered "some toast raw on one side and burned on the other, a cup of coffee strong as h— and cold, and three eggs fried as hard as pig iron and dumped grease and all into his plate," and requested the waitress to put on her kimono and bed room slippers, rumple her hair and sit down and nag him, saying "I am homesick."

Our old friend, Henry Marter not only came in with friendly greetings, but also wrote out a check for $1.50.

Ain't they sweet.

Feet too little and heads too big are the troubles of most of those seeking Harrison's place.

Grenada has a good chance to get an army camp; and, when every other county in the state gets the Food Stamp Plan, Grenada county may get it too.

Lonzo Billups is now a traveling man. Guess he will pick up lots of good jokes, as well as orders for meat.

Sam Barranco got into good shape on the GCW books. Preachers certainly have it easy.

Do not forget the big races at the Fair Grounds tomorrow (Friday) Encourage those who are trying to bring back th' classic sport—horse racing.

Where Horn put that extra 15 pounds nobody seems to know.

Customers kept Harry and Horn busy on job printing Friday and Saturday. Do it again this week-end.

Mrs. Walter Garner, we are happy to mention, has indicated her intention, in a monetary way, of taking the GCW again this year.

From now on, as we have a folding machine, we are not going to refuse to accept any new subscribers, just so he or she has cash money.

Nearly everyone received a good rain last week, and things are looking up in the agricultural economy of Grenada county.

MRS. DICKINSON HOSTESS AT BRIDGE LUNCHEON

On Wednesday morning Mrs. Mitchell house guest of Mrs. E. L. Bass, was houseguest of a delightfully planned bridge luncheon, staged at the home of Mrs. Charles Dickinson. Exquisite roses and pink gladioli brightened the living room of the home when the guests arrived at ten o'clock. Mrs. Dickinson greeted her guests in an attractive summer frock of pink. Mrs. Mitchell wore a black sheer with touches of white.

In the games, Mrs. George Garner received a very patriotic prize indeed. For winning high score she received a Postal Savings Book with $1.00 in stamps. The honoree received a box of dusting powder.

At noon the guests went to the Bar-win Hotel for lunch. Here garden flowers and lighted tapers adorned the table. A three course luncheon of delicious food was served to the following: Mesdames Mitchell, E. L. Bass, George Garner, J. B. Perry, Jr., F. S. Hill, E. L. Wilking, W. K. Kuhne, R. C. Trusty and Mrs. Dickinson.

IRIS CLUB

The Iris Club met in the lovely garden at Mrs. J. K. Aven's home Thursday (this) afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Each member brought a guest. Further details of this meeting will appear next week.

GARDEN PARTY

Mrs. Will Hill complimented Miss Helen Lavender, house guest and aunt of Mrs. Cas E. Heath, Jr., on Wednesday afternoon of last week at a beautifully planned tea staged in the ever charming garden of the home. So skillfully is Mrs. Hill's garden planned that choice flowers blossom there the year around, and on Wednesday last, many lovely garden flowers gladdened the social event honoring Miss Lavender.

Assisting the hostess were Mesdames Cas E. Heath, Jr., A. M. Carothers, C. A. Pharr and Henderson, and Miss Mary Ross.

Delicious fruit punch in cups and chicken salad sandwiches, cheese canapés, olives, pickle and dainty cookies were served on plates. Mrs. Andrew Carothers assisting Mrs. Hill with the entertainment of the guests, planned several contests which proved most interesting.

Approximately twenty ladies enjoyed this delightful affair.

TOM CARROLL, 3 YEARS OLD

On Tuesday afternoon, June 24 Thomas Henry Carroll, better known to his playmates as "Tom," celebrated his third birthday in a big way, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carroll.

Brilliantly colored balloons were given to the guests as they arrived and at this time they presented their young host presents, with best wishes for a happy birthday. Children's games were enjoyed for an hour before the lovely birthday cake, with three candles was brought out. This was sliced and served with dishes of cream and glasses of pink lemonade.

The following youngsters were present: The host, Tom Carroll; Jim Quinn, Frank Eastwood, Billy Keith, Nall, Billie Tiers, Margaret Moore, Lila Rose Moore, Mamie Louise Williamson, Mary Carolyn Marters and Betty Jo Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams Parksdale and Billie Bell, of Shelby, motored to Grenada last Saturday to bring their guest, Miss Willie Temple, of Covington, Tenn., for a visit with Mrs. Will Hayward and family.

Mr. and Mrs. James Russell Lockert returned home from their honeymoon trip on the Mississippi Coast and in Florida, last Saturday.

Mr. "BET" Boone, of Batesville, visited in Grenada Wednesday, honoring our new office with a call.

ALL SAINTS' AUXILIARY

The handsome house of Mrs. John Klug on Main Street was thrown open on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock to members of All Saints auxiliary. Twenty members and two visitors were present. When the members arrived Miss Juliette Doak, who was co-hostess escorted the ladies to the beautifully appointed dining room where delicious fruit punch and equally delicious home made cookies were served. Mrs. Klug who only recently returned to Grenada, her girlhood home, graciously invited her friends to roam about the great house the rooms of which are large and feature twelve foot doors and fifteen foot ceilings. The entire house presented a very lovely appearance. Mrs. E. R. Burckley, Vice President, presided in the absence of Miss Mary Strahan, President.

Mrs. O. F. Lawrence conducted the devotional and read information sent from National Headquarters on the Organization and work of the Federal Council of Churches of which the Episcopal Church became an active member at the Tri Annual held in Kansas City last year. Secretary and treasurer were absent. Mrs. Harry Burckley, Social Service Chairman, gave an interesting report. Mrs. Whitaker and Mrs. Neely discussed with members the annual picnic and will announce soon the place for the picnic which will be given in July, probably 16th. Auxiliary recessed for July and August, subject to call meeting by President, Miss Strahan.

Meeting closed by members saying benediction in unison.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Claire Gibson Nicols, attractive little six year old daughter of Atty. and Mrs. W. B. Nicols, celebrated her sixth birthday on Monday, June 23, when a group of happy youngsters assembled at her home for an afternoon of pleasure.

Colorful and patriotic colored balloons in red white and blue were given as the guests arrived. Assisting Mrs. Nicols with the planned games of the afternoon, was her friend Mrs. Lewis.

Claire Gibson received lovely presents from her friends and showed her pride in her new possessions by her delighted acceptance and sweetly expressed thanks.

After an hour of games, a lovely white birthday cake, adorned with pink roses with green leaves, and six pink candles, was served with Dixie cups to the following: Buddy Isenberg, Helen Louise Kimbrough, Mary Betty Ray, Flea Juchilein, Jacqueline Sanderson, Sandra Matthews, Elaine Lewis, Mary Sue Johnson, Peter Pryor, Vera Crenshaw, Baby Alice Brewer and John Robert Ray.

To receive her guests, Claire Gibson was dressed in yellow dotted swiss, yellow ribbon in her hair, yellow socks and white sandals.

ALLISON-HENDRICKS

A marriage of interest to many friends was that of Miss Thelma Hendricks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hendricks, of Grenada, and Mr. McHenry Allison, son of Mrs. Lizzie Lannar, Grenada county.

The ceremony was at the home of the officiating minister, the Rev. J. H. Hewlett, of Charleston, on June 14, 1941.

The bride received her education at Grenada High School from which she was a graduate. She has been employed in the office of the County Welfare Agent for months past as assistant to Mrs. T. W. Goodwin. She made many friends while serving in this capacity, among the people of the county.

Mr. Allison graduated from Charleston High School and is a young man of sterling worth. He is employed with the Johnston Refining Company with headquarters at Vicksburg. Mr. Allison will arrive in Grenada on Friday, July 4th to take his bride to their new home in Vicksburg.

Miss Pauline Davis of Somerville, Tenn., is visiting her cousin, Miss Francis Davis at the Plant.

Sgt. Ralph Davis of Camp Blanding, Fla. spent last week with home folks at the Plant. While here he with Mr. and Mrs. Davis and Frances motored to Somerville, Tenn. to visit their parents and grandparents.

Mrs. Anna Cross is the guest of her niece, Mrs. L. J. Doak and Mr. Doak.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Trotman of Lexington visited Mrs. Trotman's mother Mrs. Arthur Kettle the past weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Craig and little daughter, Olive, visited their mother Mrs. J. J. Craig in Como on Sunday. Norfleet Jr. is spending a month there.

Mrs. Elridge Parks and infant daughter, Mary Bess, left for their new home in Drew. Grenada friends regret their departure from this, their native home, and wish for them success and happiness in their new home.

Young Tommy Coats, grandson of Dr. and Mrs. Coats of Hardy, spent last week in Grenada with his great aunt Mrs. J. M. Talbert.

Chester Brown, fine little seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Brown, Jr. of Memphis, is the guest of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Brown in Grenada.

Mrs. Sam Mitchell, of Clarksdale, is visiting Mrs. L. E. Bass this week.

Mrs. Edith Brown Hayes is visiting friends in Memphis this week.

BOYS AT CAMP TALLAH

Under the leadership of Joe Thomas, Jr., the following boy Scouts are spending this week at Camp Tallah: Albert Graves, Billy Theisman, Floyd Theisman, Hal Pleasants, Bobby Alexander, Louis Weir, Sonny Kimbrough, Malcolm Lawrence, Giles Patty, Jimmie McKell and Buddy Aven.

Mrs. Sam Mims, Sr., is visiting her son, Mr. K. C. Quiggins and family in Houston, Texas. She was accompanied to Houston by Mrs. Ed Smith and daughter, Miss Louise; they are visiting Mrs. Smith's sister who resides there. They will return home in ten days.

Mrs. J. W. Moore and daughter, Martha Ann, of Albuquerque, N. M., are visiting Miss Inez Donaldson at the Grenada Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. James Coats who visited their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Coats at Hardy last week, left on Tuesday of last week to attend a national conference of Farm Credit administrators in Asheville, N. C. From there they will go to visit friends and plan to return at the end of three weeks, stopping here to get their young son, Tommie, and return to New Orleans.

Glenn Thomason, U. S. Navy, is at home for a month's vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. (Dink) Thomason.

Mrs. Tallert Aldridge and three children, accompanied by their mother and grandmother, Mrs. R. B. Thomason, left for their new home in Washington, D. C. this past Wednesday. Commander Aldridge has been on duty in the Capital for some time. Mrs. Thomason, planned to visit in Washington for several weeks but will cut her visit short because of her son Glenn's visit.

Messrs. Frank, Jr. and Gus Gerard who are attending summer school at Ole Miss, spent the week end here with their parents Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Gerard.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Green are spending two weeks in the Ozark Mountains of Ark. They are near Hot Springs.

Rev. George B. Myers, Professor of Philosophy and Religion and Ethics at the University of the South, Sewanee, was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Liles last Wednesday and Thursday. The Rev. Mr. Myers taught Rev. Liles when he attended Sewanee and this visit was a most happy reunion of instructor and pupil.

Mr. Cas E. Heath, Sr. celebrated his 80th birthday, July 3, 1941. Congratulations, Mr. Heath.

Friends of Mr. Strahan are glad to learn that he is improved after a spell of illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Horton attended the funeral of the latter's grandmother, Mrs. White, at Lena on Tuesday.

YOUNG COATS

TOMMIE AND PATRICIA COATS

Both of the above kids are two years of age. The young man is, Tommie Coats, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Coats, of New Orleans, grandson of Dr. and Mrs. Coats, of Hardy, and of Mr. Hopkins, of Natchitoches, and great grandson of Mrs. Rosa Thomason, of Pearidge. The young lady is Miss Patricia Ann Coats, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barkley Coats, of Hardy, grand daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Coats, of Hardy and of Mr. and Mrs. Will Hayward, of Haverway, and great grand daughter of Mrs. Rosa Thomason, of Pearidge.

NEW MAN AT OLIVER-LILLY

Mr. and Mrs. Walker, natives of Cassida, are new residents of Grenada, making their home in the apartment at Mrs. E. L. Gerard.

Mr. Walker is in charge of Ford Parts at Oliver-Lilly Motor Co. Grenada extends welcome to these new comers.

Mr. Cleveland Ambrose, of East St. Louis, is here visiting relatives. This week he is the house guest of his cousin, Mr. Lewis Weir and family.

Mrs. Mary McCordick and her room mate from New Orleans were guests of Mrs. J. B. Perry, Jr., from Monday until Wednesday morning. They are enjoying a vacation trip and plan to go to Atlanta and North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Matthews and two daughters, Miss Joyce and Sandra are visiting relatives in Arkansas this week.

Andrew Whitaker spent last Saturday in Jackson.

Miss Lizzie Horn is visiting her sister, Mrs. Nesbitt in New Albany this week.

The Next Fourth?

As you read this your boy and my boy are comparatively safe in the United States which technically is at peace. He is well clothed, well fed, and receives excellent hospitalization. Where will they be on July 4, 1942?

Today we live under constitutional government. There is no censorship of mail, of the press and of the radio. What of July 4, 1942?

Today we are able to buy new cars, if we have the money, and all the gasoline and oil our pocketbooks will stand. What of July 4, 1942?

Essential foods are plentiful and relatively cheap. One's ability to pay is the only limit upon what he buys to eat and to wear. What of July 4, 1942?

Today, our people are off fishing, motoring, pick-nicking, visiting relatives and otherwise enjoying themselves as their means and their inclinations permit. What of July 4, 1942?

It would be interesting to the reader to pursue this subject and, while enjoying the freedom of July 4, 1941, visualize what may happen to him before July 4, 1942.

Many Thanks

With the remittance for another year's subscription a Chicago friend (who may not wish his name mentioned) made the following remarks which we appreciate very much:

I don't want to miss anything in your paper. Your paper is a great comfort to one so far away from the native hearth. I am glad you are progressing and it is noticeable in the paper since you have cut loose from journalistic and political. Those are excellent articles by Mr. Allen about the Hosiery Mill (Editor's note: the editor, not Mr. Allen is writing that series) and the development of sweet potatoes. You all are headed in the right direction now, and about statesmen and the record they have made, the best said the better.

UNDER THE MAGNOLIA TREE

By Herbert B. Allen

One of the most beautiful regions in the United States is the famous Shenandoah Valley of colonial Virginia. We recently drove up the valley, passing through Lexington, the home of Virginia Military Institute, one of the world's finest military colleges, located in the heart of this magnificent valley.

Highway U. S. 11 passes a beautiful old cemetery, and no veteran, worthy of the name would pass through Lexington without stopping to pay tribute to one of the greatest military leaders of all time.

In every country there are hundreds of millions of persons born in this old world. But few ever become so famous that one name upon their tomb distinguishes them so eloquently that no other information is necessary or appropriate. Shakespeare, Milton, Newton, Wellington, Voltaire, Napoleon, Goethe, Washington, Lincoln, Grant, Lee and Edison are among that great company.

There also lies in Lexington, Virginia, one whose career quickens the pulse, and inspires the mind. On one side of the fine monument erected to his memory, in bold relief, is carved in granite the one name, "STONE WALL." This is the last resting place of one of the most gallant and most brilliant gentlemen who ever wore a shoulder strap—one of the bravest of the brave—Stonewall Jackson, General, Confederate States Army. What a rank—and what a man!

When armies are engaged in heavy and prolonged fighting, the going gets very rough. The old chassis becomes numb with fatigue; the eyes burn from lack of sleep, from dirt and dust, and from the acid fumes of exploding shells; the throat is parched, the tongue leathery, and is split and sore from thirst; and the senses become dazed from the deafening roar and shock of artillery fire. At such time it makes the difference between day and night whether you are serving under a great General—or just under an ordinary general officer.

Great generals almost always have a real affection for the young men under their command. No one can know or describe the strain these men are under during great battles, when so much depends upon their personal judgment and strategy. Their influence is incalculable. A small army under such men is much more effective than a far larger army under an ordinary commander.

I was not born in the homeland of General Jackson. But I was very proud to note that the only eulogy on Stonewall's monument was that a British Officer of the highest rank, one under whom my grandfather had served in India and Egypt. This tribute was paid by Field Marshal, the Right Honorable Viscount Wolseley. "The fame of General Stonewall Jackson is no longer the exclusive property of Virginia and the South; it has become the birth right of every man privileged to call himself an American."

General Stonewall Jackson was a man of superlative courage, firm conviction, daring initiative, and resolute action. There is dire need in Dixie today for men who possess even one iota of the sterling qualities which distinguished this great Virginia gentleman and soldier.

There is a crying need for men who will patriotically place the interests of the Southland before their own private interests. Individually, our time here is brief and fleeting. But the Southland lives on, and reflects our interest—or our neglect!

A noble heritage is ours.

To cherish and preserve:

Should we fail in our duty then

We'll reap what what we deserve

In the wilderness of the Appalachian Mountains, in Tennessee, I recently witnessed maneuvers by the 193rd Tank Battalion of the Second Army. This is a summary of what took place.

A New York City regiment, the 2nd Battalion of the 165th Infantry, had advanced to attack the Red Army and they made an excellent showing.

The commander of the Red Army then called for aid, and the 193rd Tank Battalion rushed to his support. The boys wheeled their tanks into action, moving through the woods at high speed, crashing through underbrush, and over rocks, at a speed of about forty miles an hour. The New Yorkers were pushed back, but artillery came to their support with anti-tank guns, and the umpire ruled that the tanks had been driven off.

The purpose of these maneuvers was to determine how well good infantry regiments could withdraw, under an attack by tanks, when the infantry has efficient artillery support close enough in their rear to come into action with reasonable speed.

The realism of these maneuvers certainly is reassuring. Last year, the maneuvers held by the Regular Army, along the Sabine River in Louisiana and Texas, broke down completely because of old and obsolete equipment, which could not withstand actual service in difficult country. The region in which we found the 2nd Army maneuvering was extremely difficult terrain.

Incidentally, the camouflage of the tanks was so good that they could not be easily distinguished at even fifty yards, which was as close as we came to them, it would have been absolutely impossible for hostile air reconnaissance to have detected these tanks from above. They were parked in thick forests, but had no trouble in navigating among the trees.

I'd rather hear the scream of shells,

And the crash of shrapnel falling;

Than advance in open order

Where those high speed tanks are pawling

FROM A REBEL HILL TOP

By The Grenadier

In 1919 I served for a time in one of the Russian White Armies, under the command of the famous General Yudenich, who was campaigning against the Red Army in Estonia, in an effort to recapture St. Petersburg (now Leningrad) from the Bolsheviks.

At that time there was virtually no industry in Russia whatever. Most of the business in Russia was in German hands. German was the language used in business conversation, and was understood by all educated Russians with whom I came in contact.

The Russian officers with whom I was personally associated was a Baltic Baron, Major General Ernest Wahl, who had been chief of intelligence for the Grand Duke Nicholas in the Duke's Caucasian campaign against Turkey. General Wahl was more German in appearance, and in manner, than he was Russian. German was the language in which we spoke, for I did not know a word of Russian insofar as I can remember. I made one attempt at conjugating Russian verbs and once was enough for me.

Recently the papers were reporting that Germany had demanded control over Russian heavy industry. For there actually is heavy industry in Russia today. It is a fact that Russia passed Great Britain in the production of iron and steel a few years ago, and is now running neck and neck with Germany's output of these basic industrial commodities. Had the war not so greatly stimulated German heavy industry, Russia would now be second only to the United States as a producer of steel. This is a miraculous accomplishment.

What interests me is not so much the fact that a country accomplished what would have appeared to any person, twenty years ago, as an absolute impossibility. The miracle of it is that it was accomplished by RUSSIAN! For they are, in my opinion, the most stupid of all of the world's shining examples of stupidity, indolence, and ignorance, in that region of Europe.

Before the revolution in Turkey, about thirty years ago, that country was an orthodox Mohammedan country in which the possession of anything resembling a machine would have brought about your death. It was with the greatest difficulty that telegraph lines were first run, and later operated, in Turkey. For they were believed, by the fanatical Turks, to be inventions of the devil.

Some years ago, when I was supercargo on a tramp steamer in the Indian Ocean, I remember a vivid account by our Scottish chief engineer, of his experiences on the first river steamers which the Turkish governments ordered for service on the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers. Shots might be expected to be heard at all hours of the day and night from along the river banks. This sniping at the steamers continued for many years.

One of the reasons for the pact between Germany and Turkey is the fact that Turkey also has five year plans for the industrialization of that country. And incidentally, Turkey is now growing cotton also! Remarkable progress has been made, considering the times, but the war has completely disrupted Turkish trade.

Germany is now the only country able to deliver any of the machinery which Turkey requires for her internal development, and Germany is in drastic need of exchanging machine products for food. The arrangement is a natural one, especially under the power of compulsion Britain and the United States are not in a position to do much business with Turkey at the present time.

Here we have two countries, Russia and Turkey, which just twenty years ago were among the most backward on earth. Just how backward, it is not possible to describe to an American. An American just cannot visualize such backwardness. It may give some idea to state that one could see harvesting being done by methods which had not varied from the very methods Christ witnessed, in Galilee, when He was on earth.

Now these are interesting developments to a globe trotter who has seen greater changes take place in his own relatively short lifetime, than took place in long periods of time, previous to the first World War.

If such phenomenal changes could take place in such backward and remote countries as Russia and Turkey, with their comparatively dull populations, will you please try to visualize what a paradise the deep South could become, in a mere five years, if intelligent planning, energetic and persistent effort, and patriotic devotion to our own best interests, were to be substituted for our present drifting policy, our fantastic indifference to developments all around us, and our total lack of effort to constructively plan a modern and rational course of action.

If Bolsheviks and Turks can plan,

Improvements in their lands;

Why don't we plan in Dixie for

Our idle lands and hands?

Me and the GCW.

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

There is a certain negro preacher in Grenada whose name should be Bitch instead of what it is, made a mess of his roof job. If he does not mind, the devil is not going to wait, but will grab him from the pulpit.

Down in the old Church Den, we considered 102 degrees of temperature sort of mild; up here 97 is about as hot as it gets. That, however, is hot enough.

Expert car repairers are going to be more and more in demand as the flow of new cars slackens. Soon it will be impossible to swap in a good car just because the brakes need tightening, or the carburetor needs adjusting. Grenada has plenty of expert repairmen. Shorty Sherwood, who should have been at preaching, just drove by.

It costs a lot of money to move a printing shop, and to rearrange things, replaster, etc. I know what I am talking about.

Britain is giving Germany an increasing dose of the medicine which Germany has been giving England. More power to Britain!!

Tomorrow, July 4th, will be a big day at the Fair Grounds. By attending the races you will encourage the men who are seeking to bring back to popularity the old custom of horse racing.

LOST: Turner Bailey.

One thing has been done which was said could not be done: that is keep grocery stores and dry goods stores closed on Sundays.

I have almost quit dipping snuff, tho not quite.

Many who were supported by the strong right arm of Pat Harrison will soon fall. Bilbo will see to that.

We sincerely regretted to hear of the sudden death of Jack Conner, a brother of Ex Governor Mike Conner.

Quartrell is soon to build a new place on 51 Highway.

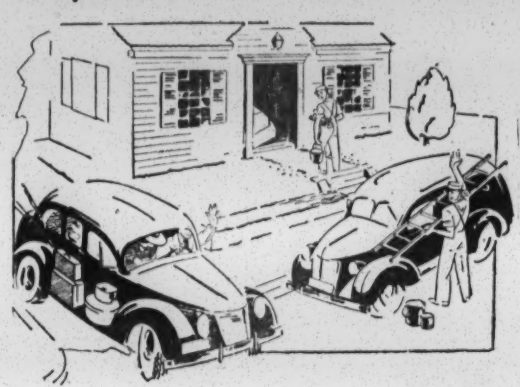

Everyone thought that our daughter Dorothy pinch hit well for her mother last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Quinn and son Jim, visited Mr. Quinn's parents at Sturgis last Thursday and Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Spain spent the week-end in Booneville with their parents last week. Upon their return they were accompanied by their parents who will visit here a week or more.

Prof. and Mrs. S. L. Woodward and daughter, Miss Josephine, of Hendersonville, N. C. paid a short visit to Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Vandiver and daughter, Miss Sue.

Repair Your House . . .

While You Repair Your Health!

MAKE ALTERATIONS AND IMPROVEMENTS DURING YOUR VACATION

The end of a vacation usually means the return to a routine existence in the "same old place" . . . but it needn't. Minor repairs and modernization can make almost any "old place" seem new and exciting.

Let us fix your house while you are on your vacation, and double the thrills, by making the return trip as attractive as the "going away". You'll be pleasantly surprised when you learn how much can be accomplished easily and inexpensively.

Get away from the fuss and dirt of remodeling. No matter how careful and considerate a carpenter may be, he always causes some inconvenience because of the noise and materials scattered about. Make the "between vacation" living better by remodeling this summer while you're away.

FORECLOSURE NOTICE

WHEREAS, on March 5th, 1934, Thomas J. Porter (also known as T. J. Porter) and wife, Emma Porter executed a trust deed under the terms of which the hereinafter described land was conveyed to the trustee named therein to secure the payment to THE LAND BANK COMMISSIONER of an indebtedness therein described, which trust deed is recorded in Land Book 68, Page 86, of the Mortgage Records of Grenada County, Mississippi; and

WHEREAS, the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation is the owner of said indebtedness and said trust deed securing same; and the undersigned was substituted as trustee in said trust deed by an instrument of record in Book 80, Page 340 of the records of said county; and

WHEREAS default has been made in the performance of the conditions of said trust deed, and the holder thereof has declared the entire indebtedness secured thereby due and has requested the undersigned to sell said lands as provided by said trust deed.

THEREFORE, the undersigned will, between eleven o'clock A. M. and four o'clock P. M. on July 11th, 1941, at the East door of the County Courthouse in Grenada, Mississippi, offer for sale and sell at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash the following described land in the aforesaid County and State:

Fifteen acres in the southwest quarter of southwest quarter of Section 1 and west half of northwest quarter of Section 12 and the north half of Section 11, and northwest quarter of southeast quarter and northeast quarter of southwest quarter of Section 11, and east half of northeast quarter of Section 10, and south half of southeast quarter of Section 2, and the south 27 acres in the south half of southwest quarter of Section 2, all in Township 23, Range 4 East, Grenada County, Mississippi.

The undersigned will convey only such title as is vested in him as such trustee.

W. B. NICOLS, Trustee
6-19, 26, 7-3, 10-29-30w.

Treasury Department, Office of District Supervisor, Alcohol Tax Unit, Bureau of Internal Revenue, New Orleans, Louisiana, Date of first publication, June 26, 1941. Notice is hereby given that on June 26, 1941, one 1928 Ford Pickup Truck, Motor No. A-364325, with accessories, was seized in Lafayette County, Mississippi, for violation of the Internal Revenue Laws, to-wit: Section 3221, Internal Revenue Code. Any person claiming an interest in said property must appear at the office of Investigator in Charge, Alcohol Tax Unit, 1002 Deposit Guaranty Bank Building, Jackson, Mississippi, and file claim and cost bond as provided by Section 3724, Internal Revenue Code, on or before July 28, 1941; otherwise the property will be disposed of according to law. ## NEWS AND VIEWS OF THE YOUNGER SET

By The Three Listen-ers

Last week a certain little item appeared in this column which caused a little feeling. We want to say that we meant no harm by it and that we will try in the future to make up for it.

Mrs. Pays had as her visitor Miss Mary Evelyn Abernathy from Houston. Mary E. didn't stay long enough to meet many people but the one she met said that she was a cute little blonde.

Louise Arent abandoned the high stepping life of Grenada last week and came to New Orleans on the choo-choo. She is back in town now. She brought her little cousin, Juanita, back with her.

We were all prepared to give Mary Lih's guest, Bonnie McLean, a long write-up, but Bonnie's plans were changed and she didn't get to come to Grenada.

Marguerite Stanley is back in town after spending several weeks in Starkville. She has brought two mighty cute girls back with her.

Marjorie Chapman was at the midnite show with L. D. Boone Saturday night. Betty Rule was with SHOT Hill and Jackie was with Ed Penn. Cec. Thomason was with Mrs. Henry Ray, Jr.'s visitor from Shreveport.

John Rundle and Helen Horton went down to Jackson last Friday. Helen went to see one of her girl friends and John went for business reasons.

Johnny Mitchell and Warren Robinson are taking in the sights at New York City. We bet they are having a swell time.

Louise Sanderson breezed in to town last Saturday. We are glad to see her back in town. She looks as if, LSU is agreeing with her.

Jack Butler is going to go to Memphis and live. We hate for old Jack to go and we hope that he will come home every chance he gets.

Bobby Jackson from Cleveland and Ole Miss spent last week-end with Lawyer Frank Horton.

Frank Matthews must have gone out of town. We haven't seen him down at the Leggett house here lately. Shot Hill is driving the White Way truck while he is gone.

Ask Winifred who that cute little boy is who she met at the Camp. She told us the other day that he was going to visit her at her home this summer.

If the town has been unusually quiet this week it is because Rogers has been out of town.

Margrete Green is back in town. This will be of special to a whole string of people.

We give the prize to Billy Semmes for having the most number of dates with the most number of girls at the same time. The prize is a date book to keep track of his appointments.

Ask "Poor Keeton" what he and Mr. Hill did the other day that was rated on the daring side.

Ann Neely and Bill F. are seen everywhere together here days.

Dick Jones went down on the coast to a sorority convention. Don't you bet she had a grand time.

Congratulations to Dot Talbert. She has a grand job working for the government. Dot is a grand old gal and we know that she is going to do her job well.

Ann Odum had her cousin visiting her last week. Her name slipped our minds but we know one thing and that is that she is real cute looking.

Four of the city's damsels were playing bridge in a boat at Baker's Lake when the boat abruptly went under. Now there are cuds in the lake. (Catch on?)

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to publicly thank our many friend for the flowers, for the messages and for the words of sympathy which we received when it became known that our dear brother, Robert Garner Boatright, had died last Monday in the Veterans Hospital in St. Louis. May God bless each of you.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson and Carl Boatright.

Might sorry to hear that Uncle John Gibson has been sick. We have missed seeing him walking up Beal Street with his umbrella.

Mrs. George Criss in company with Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Green and two daughters, Misses Margaret and Eleanor Green, motored to Plainfield, Illinois Friday the 13th and will return today (Friday). Mr. Green returned via train on Wednesday, the 12th. While there they stayed in the home of Mrs. Margaret Green, mother of Mr. Green.

"dere mr pete la green, i goss ower ole fren mr red bris cow has giv outta ammunishun."

Squire Boushe took a taxi trip recently, destination unknown to this writer.

Miss Martha Strahan and Mrs. Fred Herzer, of State College spent Saturday with Miss Mary Strahan, their sister, and Mr. Strahan, their father.

Miss Elizabeth Brooks, who has been attending college in Los Angeles, Cal since February, returned home for vacation on Monday.

Misses Margaret and Marjorie Brooks, of Greenwood, spent Wednesday with their friend, Miss Anne Neely.

Hail, rain, snow and sleet are all manifestations of Nature's prodigious capacity to convert water into many forms. Hail, however, is our favorite, as Mrs. J. S. Hale is trying out the GCW, for 4 months.

We note that our friend, Tom Bailey is still speaking at gatherings over the state. Tom is likely to be Mississippi's next governor.

His man friends regret to know that the aged father of Harry Greenfield lies desolately ill with a table pneumonia at St. Joseph Hospital in Memphis. The elder Mr. Greenfield is 84 years of age.
